Version 2 was adopted by the Steering Committee in March 2011 and adds about 65 terms to Version 1.

Version 2.1 was adopted by the Steering Committee in July 2011 and adds additional environmental terms.

Defines and explains terms used in the evaluation, measurement, verification, and market research of electric and gas energy efficiency, conservation, load management, demand response, and other demand reduction activities.

Purposefully minimizes the complexities and necessary context of the statistical terms or methodologies that are used in the development of energy or emissions savings.
